Windsor May Visit London

LONDON, Sept. 12.—(UP)—The Duke of Windsor may return from exile to attend the funeral of his cousin, the favorite relative, Prince Arthur of Connaught, sources close to Buckingham Palace told the United Press today.

The prince died in his sleep at 3:30 a.m. of a gastric ailment. He was one of the least known members of the royal family, but was an intimate friend of the former king. They were brother Masons.

Palace sources said the Duke undoubtedly would desire to return for the funeral. The royal family would wish it or at least would not obstruct in the way, it was said. No mention was made of whether his duchess, the former Wallis Warfield, could return with him without objection.

4-Way Race Seen For Board Post

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 12.—(UP)—Possibility of at least a four-cornered race for first district representative on the state board of equalization developed today following the death of John C. Corbett, member of the board since 1914.

Corbett died at St. Francis hospital after a week's illness. He was taken ill shortly after the recent primaries in which he was re-nominated for office by the Democratic, Republican and Progressive parties.

His lead on all three tickets virtually had assured his reelection to represent the district, which comprises San Francisco, San Mateo, Santa Cruz, Santa Clara, San Luis Obispo, Monterey and San Benito counties.

Mad at Self; Gets Self Arrested

OAKLAND, Sept. 12.—(UP)—When Oakland firemen answered an alarm they found Manuel C. Carvalho, 30, laborer, leaning against the alarm box.

"There isn't any fire," he told Battalion Chief F. J. Sandy. "I pulled the alarm because I wanted to go to jail. I had a fight with my girl."

Chief Sandy obliged him.

Grape Prorate Called Unsound

HEALDSBURG, Cal., Sept. 12.—(UP)—A resolution to "ignore" the state grape prorate program as "unsound" was adopted today by the Sonoma County Dry Wine Grape Growers' association, representing many of the largest wine-producing vineyardists in this famous wine producing country.

The resolution recommended that the association's members deliver their grapes on the present schedule to wineries, asserting that "the prorate plan contemplates almost confiscation of 45 per cent of dry wine grapes to be converted into brandy on the false premise that there is a dry wine surplus."

Chief Sandy obliged him.

Hitler Promises Aid To Sudetens

Thousands today heard Chancellor Hitler hurl a challenge to the world as the Nazi Party Congress concluded its annual session at Zeppelin Field at Nuremberg. In his speech, Hitler promised to help the Sudeten minority in Czechoslovakia to "defend themselves."

ROSSI IN MOVE TO END S. F. LABOR WAR

Back in jail at Los Angeles is Vernon Oscar Van Austin, 21. He escaped from a United States marshal aboard a train at Glendale, appeared at the Los Angeles County Jail and offered to give himself up but admittance was refused. Then he went to the marshal's office, found it closed due to a holiday and was forced to wait another day before being returned to custody.

Students Blamed As School Burns

NORWALK, Cal., Sept. 12.—(UP)—Imprints of tiny feet around the Ramona grammar school today provided sheriff's officers with a clue as to who set fire to the school early this morning, four hours before it was open for the fall session.

Mr. Roosevelt was cheered by the findings of physicians that the ulcer had been non-malignant and a count down on the super physical condition of his son to pull him through.

He and Mrs. Roosevelt, and James' wife, Betsy, visited at the hospital twice yesterday and again last night. He said he would remain in Rochester until he was convinced that James was "out of the woods," which may be another 48 or 72 hours.

Condition Good

Dr. Howard K. Gray, of the Mayo staff, who performed the operation, said James' condition was good and that he was recovering satisfactorily.

Dr. Gray told the President that James' blood pressure, pulse and respiration were virtually normal.

He said that young Roosevelt will be up in 13 or 14 days provided there are no complications but would have to remain in the hospital for at least three weeks. He said that the next five days will be the period during which any possible complication might develop.

Blame Fire Bugs For Forest Blaze

SANTA CRUZ, Sept. 12.—(UP)—Fire believed of incendiary origin burned through a large redwood and fir timber stand 15 miles north of Santa Cruz in the Newell district today. It was brought under control by a crew of 175 firefighters summoned by Fire Warden Charles Wilcher.

Wilcher said there were five simultaneous outbreaks of fire in "strategic" spots of the timber forest. He characterized it as a "deliberate attempt" by someone to destroy the timberland in the Newell area.

The burned timber was owned by several lumber companies and the state.

SPECIAL GRAND JURY BEGINS INVESTIGATION OF PAMPHLET

The county grand jury today was summoned into special session, with William Schumacher, of Buena Park, as foreman, to conduct inquiry into the political pamphlet, "Fools Rush In," which stirred turmoil in the late stages of the primary election campaign.

Presiding Judge James L. Allen, superior court appointed Schumacher to head the grand jury, when the 19 members were drawn in his court shortly after 10 a.m. Judge Allen then read legal instructions to the group, outlining its official duties, and swore them in.

The grand jury retired to the jury room of department two, its temporary base of operations, for the business of electing its own secretary. The court appointed Willa A. White as official reporter for the grand jury.

No indication was given that the grand jury would continue with its regular session after concluding its special investigation into the pamphlet. The date for

EUROPE, ILLNESS OF SON WORRIES F.D.R.

ROCHESTER, Minn., Sept. 12.—(UP)—President Roosevelt divided his attention today between the condition of his eldest son, James, and the critical international situation, both of which were causing him deep concern.

Although he spent most of his time in St. Mary's hospital at Mayo Clinic, where James underwent an operation yesterday for removal of a stomach ulcer, he took time to study reports of the latest European developments, sent him by Secretary of State Cordell C. Hull.

Mr. Roosevelt and White House attaches maintained a studious silence on foreign affairs but close friends indicated that he was watching trends with the greatest interest, even to the exclusion of national politics—enlivened today by the Maryland primary in which the prestige of the New Deal was at stake.

Mr. Roosevelt was cheered by the findings of physicians that the ulcer had been non-malignant and a count down on the super physical condition of his son to pull him through.

He and Mrs. Roosevelt, and James' wife, Betsy, visited at the hospital twice yesterday and again last night. He said he would remain in Rochester until he was convinced that James was "out of the woods," which may be another 48 or 72 hours.

MOTRY'S HOME IS RANSACKED SUNDAY

Care on the part of V. L. Motry, of 707 South Van Ness street, today was believed by police to have virtually thwarted a sneak-thief, who was clever enough to learn the name of the dog of his prospective victim before entering the Motry home Sunday night and ransacking it.

Officers H. E. Holmes and J. B. Stevenson were called to the Motry home at 11:05 p. m. Sunday, where it was found a thief had searched almost every room, taking contents from dresser drawers and throwing articles about the rooms.

Motry said he and his wife had been gone most of the day, and Mrs. Lena J. Pope, who resides at the Motry home, was attending a picture show between 5:30 and 10 p. m.

The officers and Motry, who is a grocer, believe the thief was searching for Motry's business receipts for Saturday, but Motry was in possession of this money. The thief, according to neighbors, was heard to say, "What's the matter 'Pad-dy?'" correctly naming the dog, and that this occurred about 9 p. m. Ignoring gold watches and rings that were in the home, the burglar took only two $1 bills and a 50-cent piece.

Entrance was gained through an unlocked rear door, and police today were hopeful that fingerprints would aid in the search for the culprit.

AFTER FIVE MONTHS...

In May of this year Shell Oil Company began producing and distributing the "Universal" line of insecticides, formerly manufactured by Balfour, Guthrie & Company. For more than 20 years this brand had been considered a standard of quality throughout the West. Shell intended to keep it so. Original formulas were followed. The same high quality ingredients were used. The only change made was adding the prefix "Shell" to the brand name "Universal."

Now, after five months, come confirming reports from farmers who are using the "Shell Universal" insecticides: These products are giving the same highly satisfactory results obtained previously with "Universal" insecticides.

Farmers also remark on Shell's new and more efficient service policy. And the help and advice coming from Shell's Entomology Department is proving particularly valuable.

Shell's Entomology Department has at hand facilities available in no other quarter—Shell's world-wide resources . . . the vast technical experience of its scientists . . . Shell's experimental laboratories and field stations. These facilities are now being employed to develop better ways to help you combat pests.

Write the Shell Entomology Department for help on your problems—Shell Building, San Francisco.

PET TALKS

BY MRS. T. J. NEAL

Very often shipments of bananas from South America, there are tiny animals which the ordinary person might call mice. However, people are unaware that these so-called "mice" are in reality tiny South American opossums; great little pets of the natives.

Several requests have been made from time to time, both in this column and in "Humane Bits," for membership or donations to the Humane Society. I, as chairman of the membership committee, am expected to bring in the members. So far, my showing has not been anything to brag about. Will my readers enlist in this good work and send a dollar to the Secretary, Florence Robinson, 2103 North Flower? The society is holding its own, but the lean summer months have been with us and it has been hard to get anyone interested in anything but holidays, yet the hills of the society go on as usual. Hardly a day passes that the society does not get a call of some brutal treatment of animals; dogs, cats, birds, cows, all types of animals being ill-treated or tortured. Horses being worked when sick, horses under their harness, or so starved that they are hardly able to stand. There are many cases that require the societies constant attention; so, in order to carry on this work adequately, we require your continual interest and support. Your membership of only one dollar or a donation will help us help those who cannot speak for themselves.

Attempt To Trace Mick Yageticich

It may have been the man who was drowned either in the last March 3 flood or in the ocean off the Orange county coast, but neither is likely. This was the consensus of sheriff's duties today after they received an inquiry from James Hammon, 717 West Washington street, Los Angeles. Hamrock, in a telephone conversation, explained to Deputy Elmer Parker that he was attempting to trace one Mick Yageticich, of Los Angeles, who was reported to have been drowned while residing temporarily in Orange county. He had none of the details and Coronor Earl Abbey had not been called to investigate any case under that name.

Royal Arch Old Timers To Picnic

Plans are being formulated to hold the annual "Old Timers Party" by Santa Ana chapter Royal Arch Masons Thursday evening, Sept. 22 at the Masonic temple, according to information from Charles F. Mitchell, chairman of the committee.

Entertainment will be provided for the evening and it is expected that the Grand High Priest of the State of California, Lou Butterfield who is a member of Santa Ana chapter, will be present with his suite and several past grand high priests as guests of the "Old Timers."

French Mailed Fist—Strasbourg Bound

Countering Germany's shift of troops to her Siegfried line along the French border, France sent part of her war machine rumbling toward Strasbourg, key city on the Rhine frontier, protected by her Maginot line defenses. At top, speedy tanks trek northward to Strasbourg from Besancon. Below, heavy machine gun outfits fill the road in the same troop movement.

GETTING READY FOR SCHOOL

The first day in school for the beginner is an exciting and difficult experience. The child is taken from home and mother, from everything and everybody he knows, out of the familiar and pleasant ways of home, and thrust into a strange world. He knows nobody. He understands very little of what is going on about him. The sound of the bells brings terror to his heart. The crowd of children about him, who never was with more than a handful of other children in his life, frightens him. He does not hear accurately, nor see correctly, and he is not under the direct control of his own mind. He is a very frightened, puzzled, little child much in need of friendly help and understanding.

The best way to help a child over the first hard day is to allow no first day. When the time for entering school begins to seem nearer, take the child on a visit to school. First walk about the building, the grounds and the halls. Inspect the playgrounds. Explain about them and about the drinking fountains and the toilets. Take several trips for this. Gradually get into the building. Meet a teacher, the one he is to have, if possible. Visit a classroom; go to a school party; give the child a first-hand experience with the school that will take the edge off its newness for him.

If there are brothers and sisters attending school let them take the pupil-to-be to school once in a while. He can stay half a session visiting about. That helps him greatly and does not inconvenience anybody very much. The teachers will understand his presence and help the idea along by being friendly and helpful.

While you are doing this attend to the registration requirements. If he must be vaccinated make it done within the six months before sending him if possible. Don't wait until school opens and then send him there with a sore spot and a temperature. Remember to have the Schick test given him and so ward off the terrible threat of diphtheria. Anybody who can have this test given his child and refuses it is dreadfully wrong. Imagine having the chance to avoid this deadly disease and not taking it. Remember to have the new pupill Schicked and vaccinated during the months previous to his school entrance. Take him to the dentist and have his mouth in perfect condition. See that his nose and throat are free of obstructions like adenoids and enlarged tonsils. Healthy tonsils are good things to hold on to but unhealthy ones are dangerous to a child's health and growth and school progress.

Our health records of school children in the first years of their attendance are not as good as we would like to have them. We will have fewer sick children, fewer cases of infectious and contagious diseases if the children are sent to school in a condition to resist disease. Do attend to all this before sending them to school.

Have his papers where you can put your hand on them. It is remarkable how a child's birth certificate, vaccination certificate and health records lose themselves in the "little box in the right hand corner of the top drawer" and have to be dug out of the bottom of grandmother's trunk the first week of school, with everybody waiting.

Get ready for school now.

Mr. Patri will give personal attention to inquiries from parents and school teachers on the care and development of children. Write him in care of this paper, enclosing a three cent stamped self-addressed envelope for reply. (Copyright, 1938, The Bell Sys. Inc.)

Still greatly impressed with the lack of unemployment anywhere in the islands, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Concklin, of 1120 South Parton street, today were back in Santa Ana after having traveled extensively in Honolulu, Hilo and other cities in the Hawaiian Islands.

The couple, accompanied by a sister-in-law, Mrs. Pearl Lapun, former Santa Ana teacher, and Miss Ethel Prosser, who now both reside in La Mesa, left for Honolulu on June 30, and returned over the week-end. Among interesting experiences was the encounter with a boat strike in the Honolulu harbor which forced the quartet to fly over water to Hilo, approximately 200 miles away.

"Because of the varied industrial activities, including sugar and cof-

Hitler Promises Sudetens Aid

A sea of sound broke in waves each time the Fuehrer made a point. Hitler accused the Czechs of dishonesty towards the German minority.

Hurls Charges
Referring to the recent Czech municipal elections, he said the Czechs planned to intimidate the Sudetens by massing Czech troops at the frontier.

He declared that in order to be able to do this, President Edouard Benes invented a story that German troops were mobilized to march on Czechoslovakia.

Hitler declared the story was a lie and the fabrication was immediately refuted but the Czechs wanted it spread as an excuse for intimidation.

"I declared that at the time not one soldier above the normal number was called to the colors or moved out of garrisons," Hitler avowed.

Base Attack

"Germany had no intention of marching," he continued. "You understand that a great power cannot tolerate such a base attack a second time. I therefore drew the necessary conclusions and took important measures on May 28."

"First, I ordered the German air force strengthened and secondly ordered fortifications built."

The fortification already effective today will include 18,000 steel and concrete units. Behind this line stands an armed Germany...

"Since May 28, the most gigantic fortifications have been built in the west. I gave Todt (constructor of high speed federal highways) new tasks. He achieved tremendous work."

"Under Todt, 278,000 now are working on fortresses of the west. The fortifications will be ready before winter."

Sought Peace

"I have made repeated efforts to serve peace," Hitler declared, "but I am unwilling to look on endlessly while Germans in Czechoslovakia are oppressed. Benes engaged in tactics and desires to negotiate under the methods of Geneva. That will not do. This is no question of violated rights."

Hitler declared the Sudeten Germans have the right of self-determination, although he did not indicate whether the method is to be by plebiscite or otherwise.

"Herr Benes," he said, "you have not given the Sudeten Germans gifts but to recognize their rights. I serve peace if I leave no doubt that the oppression of Sudeten Germans is to end."

"I would be sorry if our relations with other European nations suffered, but the guilt is not ours," Hitler continued.

"I am not willing to permit a second plebiscite in the heart of Germany. The Arabs are defenseless, but the Sudeten Germans are neither defenseless nor forsaken."

Producer Picks Own Miss America

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(UP)—Earl Carroll, the girl show man, and Nils T. Granlund, night club impresario, brought Miss America No. 2 to town today, announcing indignantly that she should have won the crown awarded to Miss Ohio at the national beauty pageant at Atlantic City.

The company argued that the hearing violated the National Labor Relations Act and the due process clause of the fifth amendment to the constitution.

SUICIDE ATTEMPT FOILED BY POLICE

Co-operation of a telephone operator, Desk Sergeant Roger Sherman of Anaheim and sheriff's deputies prevented a man from carrying out his announced plans to commit suicide, an Anaheim police report revealed today.

The Anaheim telephone office reported to Sherman that a man had called in from Garden Grove and asked to give his farewell message to the world. While the long distance operator and Sherman kept the man engaged in conversation, the sheriff's office was contacted and asked to send deputies to the home, the address having been secured through phone records.

Arriving at the home of James G. Bailey on Seventeenth street, near Hewitt road, Garden Grove, deputies found the house boarded up and all cracks sealed up. Breaking in, they found the house full of gas and Bailey lying unconscious under the phone. He was rushed to the county hospital and released this morning.

Miss Ohio (Marilyn Mesecky, 21, of Marion, O.) who is Miss America No. 1, by virtue of having received first place in the pageant, remained in Atlantic City enjoying her laurels.

Miss America No. 2 who is Miss California or Claire James, of Los Angeles, will be made the official pretender to Miss Ohio's honors by Carroll and Granlund tonight. They will crown her in a hotel ballroom and give her another cup.

Find Janitor Is Masquerador

NEW YORK, Sept. 12.—(UP)—John Nolan has been superintendent of an apartment building in Brooklyn so many years that residents of the neighborhood couldn't say just how long he had been doing hard manual labor, frequenting saloons with biddies and on occasion engaging in fistfights.

John fell down a flight of stairs at the apartment building today and fractured his nose. An ambulance took him to the Kings County hospital.

Shortly thereafter hospital attaches notified police headquarters that John was a woman, and what did they want to do about it?

They didn't know, offhand, but implied that it was John's business and they didn't want to do anything.

Open Trial Of CIO Rioter

NEVADA CITY, Cal., Sept. 12.—(UP)—Trial of Grant Spear, 24, Committee for Industrial Organization picket charged with rioting, was scheduled to open today before Superior Judge Raglan Tuttle.

Selection of a jury was expected to require several days.

The others were convicted, fined $500 each and sentenced to county jail terms.

FORD CO. IN ATTACK ON NLRB DECISION

WASHINGTON, Sept. 12.—(UP)—The Ford Motor Company, criticizing National Labor Relations Board trial methods, today asked the board to overrule an examiner's recommendation that it be found guilty of unfair labor practices.

Trial Examiner Thomas H. Kennedy held that the company had discriminated against CIO's United Automobile Workers, and recommended that it be ordered to reinstate 129 strikers at its Richmond, Calif., plant.

File Exceptions

The Ford company filed 213 exceptions to the report, alleging the hearing was not "full and fair" and that Kennedy "possessed a fixed bias and entertained a fixed prejudice against employers in general and in favor of unions."

The company attacked the claim of Kennedy that the UAW was the chosen representative of 1120 of the 1277 workers at the California plant. It said 372 of the members which the UAW claimed were "in good standing" had paid no dues for two months prior to the June 4, 1937, strike, and "thereby indicated their desire no longer to be represented by the union."

The company argued that the hearing violated the National Labor Relations Act and the due process clause of the fifth amendment to the constitution.

CITIZENS JOIN IN LEGION'S DRIVE TO EQUIP DRUM CORPS

Amid glamor that will make it one of the most colorful events of its kind in history, Santa Ana's crack Drum and Bugle Corps Monday will wage a new campaign which carries with it the responsibility of defending honors of the entire state of California.

The big event will be sparkling competition for national honors at the great National Convention of the American Legion next week in Los Angeles. Preliminary contests will be held in the Coliseum at 7 a. m. Monday and the finals will take place before thousands of persons in the same setting at 8 p. m. on the same day. The colorful local outfit, garbed in new uniforms and playing new drums and trumpets, then will participate in the big parade Tuesday.

These were the announcements this morning of Marion Dodder, chairman of the Register-Legion Drum Corps Fund Campaign committee, and Harold Brown, business manager of the corps.

Two Corps Ineligible

"Because of the inability of the San Gabriel corps and the outfit at Los Angeles to compete since the convention is held in the county from which both hail," the men explained, "it will be up to Santa Ana to defend California's bid for national awards, if not the entire west."

"From Maine to California in the east, Chicago and St. Louis in the middlewest, and from parts of the north and south will come more than 50 corps" that are now registered to compete in the national championship event."

At the same time, it was announced by R. M. Conklin, circulation manager of The Register, that a new angle had entered into the Register-Legion campaign, aimed to raise funds to make the local contingent one of the best-dressed outfits in the convention events.

Conklin explained, "have expressed the desire to contribute to the fund, and already several have given substantial amounts."

Officials of the drum and bugle corps as well as the American Legion said today that any persons wishing to swell the fund may do so at Dodder's business establishment at 308½ West Fourth street. Dodder also is secretary-treasurer for the corps.

Nightly Rehearsal

The corps will rehearse every night this week until Thursday night when it will taper off to final inspection next Sunday. Tonight the corps will rehearse in Anaheim city park, from 7 to 9:30 o'clock. There will be an exhibition at Anaheim Post headquarters as a pre-convention jamboree. All citizens have been invited to attend the rehearsals. Drilling and playing all day Sunday at the Municipal Bowl put the aggregation on edge for the forthcoming championship events.

All of Corrigan's relatives were at the airport to greet him. They previously had met him at Long Beach Saturday, but it seemed that a second welcome was in order.

Some 30 mechanics from nearby hangars and factories immediately surrounded the ship to prevent souvenir-hunters from carrying it.

However, his honor's mustache bristled with indignation when he heard that Corrigan had disrupted the carefully laid-out program. He asked, by telephone, if Corrigan wouldn't come north by commercial airliner. Corrigan said no; that the people wanted to see his $900 "cate," not Corrigan.

Relatives There

It was suggested to the mayor that he go to San Diego to help the flier.

"I can fix anything but a cracked cylinder-head," retorted Mayor Shaw.

Some observers believed Mr. Roosevelt had made a last minute bid for Lewis votes with a P.W.A. order to give two big Maryland bridge projects "right of way." He visited a proposed Chesapeake Bay bridge site last week in a campaign journey among southern and eastern Maryland communities.

More PWA Money

Adverse critics of the New Deal also read week end political importance into announcement of a $53,000,000 two year road building program for Georgia, where a primary state is scheduled for Wednesday.

Although Georgia and other states bear directly on the conservative New Deal friction now heating the Democratic party, Maryland is judged to offer the clearest cut of sentiment.

Other new charges from both sides were found to be unsubstantiated.

PLANNERS BACK SOCIALIZATION OF AMERICA PREDICTED

Eight members of the county planning commission, together with Supervisors Harry Riley and Steele Finley, Deputy District Attorney James E. Walker, and M. N. Thompson, county flood control engineer returned yesterday from a two-day Pacific Southwest Planning conference in Santa Barbara last Friday and Saturday.

Of special interest to Orange county was a report on the progress of Orange county's $15,000,000 flood control program given by Col. Warren T. Hannum, division engineer, U. S. Engineer Office, of San Francisco.

Members who attended the meeting included: Dr. Walter L. Bigham, Anaheim; Jules W. Markei, Santa Ana; Hugh T. Thomson, Orange; O. L. Halsell, Santa Ana; A. A. Beard, county superintendent of highways; L. Deming Tilton, county planning consultant; Harold St. Johns, assistant planning engineer, and Frank G. Hanson, assistant secretary of the board.

Following the conference, the California Association of Planning Commissioners held election of officers for the coming year at which time C. T. Lund, Marion county was chosen as president and Hugh T. Thomson, of Orange, vice-president.

Members of the group attending the parley pointed out that work being done at the conference would be closely dovetailed with studies similar to those being made in Santa Ana and Fresno on traffic problems and parking problems. It was pointed out at the conference that "if the counties and cities don't plan their highways of ingress and egress the state will take over and avoid the cities."

For the fifth consecutive year, heavy trucks were barred from major Wisconsin highways during week-ends and holidays in order to facilitate faster flowing traffic and decrease accidents.

EL PASO, Tex., Sept. 12.—(UPI)—Complete socialization of this nation is being accomplished gradually and the process is bringing about a new American economy with less power vested in the states, Mayor Fiorella La Guardia of New York said today.

"We have workmen's compensation, control of contagious and infectious diseases," he said. "Health insurance is not far distant. The only doctors who are kicking about socialized medicine are the pill doctors."

On Way to L. A.
Mayor La Guardia stopped off here with his wife and party on a leisurely trip to San Francisco and to Los Angeles, where he will attend the American Legion convention next week.

He belittled the idea of his being a candidate for President in 1940.

"I couldn't get a ticket to the gallery of either convention," he said.

"My regime in New York is so independent of politics that I can expect nothing from either party," he said. "I am strictly an independent."

Views Purge

Regarding President Roosevelt's party "purge" of reactionaries, he said that an executive had the right to have his followers in his legislative bodies.

"Purges do not bother me," he said. "I've been purged lots of times."

He said he saw no danger in government spending, but declared that he believed the country "soon will have to solve the problem permanently."

Natives of the steppes of central and western Asia and the Kalahari region of South Africa have not learned how to make pipes, so they indulge in "earth smoking." This practice consists of making a covered pit in the ground to serve as a pipe "bowl," thrusting a rod through to make a vent or "stem."

FIRE STATIONS ARE DEDICATED

Saturday marked the dedication of two new fire stations of the state forestry division of Orange county, one at San Juan Capistrano in the morning and the other at Yorba Linda in the afternoon.

The dedication of the three buildings at San Juan Capistrano was opened with a flag raising ceremony conducted by members of Boy Scout troop No. 12 and with Paul DeMaree, principal of the high school and president of the Rotary club of that place acting as master of ceremonies.

Funds to purchase the site for the buildings, a fire station, a residence and a bunk house, were secured through the efforts of Tom Forster and E. A. Nydegger. Work on the structure was begun on December 1 and a part of the material from the San Juan Capistrano CCC camp was utilized and WPA assistance was given the project.

Forestry Head Speaks

Speakers included N. B. Pratt, head of the state forestry department at Sacramento; Harry Birde, of the state fire rd; Joe Scherman, county forest ranger; N. E. West, county supervisor; A. T. Dean, superintendent of the Cleveland National forest; H. T. Holderman, resident of the county bureau of forestry; W. M. Cory, assistant Orange county farm advisor; John Osterman, president of the Orange County Forest Protective association; Woodbridge Metcalf, extension forest ranger of the University of California at Berkeley; E. Included in the county protective service, which centers under Joe Scherman, state forest ranger in charge of the county, at Orange station, are the stations dedicated Saturday, Yorba Linda and San Juan Capistrano; the completed stations at Orange, Trabuco, and Midway City, a station under construction at Costa Mesa, two lookout peaks, Gilman in Carbon canyon, and Balero, in the Cleveland National forest; 150 miles of forest road, constructed under CCC and other projects, and private telephone service between the peaks and the stations.

JITTERY OILERS PLAY AT COLTON

The PAYOFF

BY HARRY GRAYSON
(Sports Editor, NEA Service)

A little jittery now about the whole thing, the Oilers of Huntington Beach shuffle up to Colton tonight for another shot at San Bernardino's Ponies.

Joe Rodgers' champions thought they could turn on the pressure and finish the series at any time before last Friday's game when they were blanked with only one hit by young "Bud" Mayer. With Mayer also groomed for tonight's engagement, Huntington Beach isn't so sure now that it can end the series after all. However, the Oilers have a 3-2 lead in the series and need only one more win whereas San Bernardino must take two in a row to the National league's championship.

McCarthy alone among the early finishers was able to shoot par, and it seemed certain that a two-day total of 162 would earn a player one of the 64 match positions.

Closest to McCarthy as the afternoon wore along were Tommy Taller of Westbury, N. Y., Harry Givan of Seattle, and Richard Chapman of Greenwich, Conn., with 74s. Roger Kelly, Beverly Hills, Calif., and Fred Haas Jr., New Orleans, had 75s.

Pat Abbott of Altadena, Calif., one-time Public Links titlist, turned the first nine in 35 but faltered on the backside and took a 76.

The field got away in a dreary rain and early starters marched down fairways gray with fog.

Shooting 18 holes today and 18 tomorrow to determine who shall occupy the 64 match play positions the amateurs found their hopes buried in the brown sand that fills the traps of one of the world's sternest courses.

While Frisch's release was not entirely unexpected, the manner of its announcement was a surprise.

President Sam Breadon gave the news to reporters in the middle of yesterday's game with Pittsburgh.

Frisch was in uniform on the first base coaching line. At the end of the inning, he went through the dugout to the dressing room and began packing.

"I believe a change in managers of the club is necessary for 1939," Breadon said. "Frank has been with us longer than any other manager since Branch Rickey. I do not blame him for the condition of the club this year. He has done nothing we can find fault with, and he has been a good manager."

He is of the opinion that the arduous practices become tiresome for the players, and that they need entertainment to prevent them from going stale.

In addition to the swing music, Wieman also plans to employ the services of a comedian and crooner for his players.

He is of the opinion that the arduous practices become tiresome for the players, and that they need entertainment to prevent them from going stale.

Wieman's experiment will be watched with the keenest interest by his rival coaches.

If the "floor show" system builds the Tiger into a powerful beast, and he starts prowling Eastern gridirons with success, you may be certain that Yale, Harvard, Dartmouth, Army and the other Princeton foes will put in a hurry call to a big New York booking agency for bands, comics, and torch singers.

If Princeton's team, fired to fighting pitch by "Flat Foot Floogie" from its swing band and the latest jokes by its comic, start winning all its games, Yale undoubtedly will make a bid for Benny Goodman's orchestra and Eddie Cantor. Instead of an inspirational talk by Coach "Ducky" Pond before a game, the Yales will listen to a "jam session" and a series of rapid fire gags by Cantor. For use in case the team has a bad first half and needs a lift, the Yale Athletic team will be the leaders.

It hasn't a thing to say," Frisch answered when besieged by reporters. "I'll probably be around St. Louis for a day or so then leave for my home in New Rochelle, N. Y. Mr. Breadon and I are still on the friendliest terms, and I hope we will remain that way. We just had a salary difference, and that is all there is to it."

Frisch was the regular second baseman of the Cardinals' championship teams of 1926, 1930 and

1931, became manager late in 1932

and led the team to the world title in his first full season at the helm in 1933.

Christian Science

These words of Jesus: "Blessed are they which do hunger and thirst after righteousness; for they shall be filled," were the Golden Text.

Among the Scriptural selections in the lesson-sermon were these verses from John: "Philip saith unto him, Lord, shew us the Father, and it sufficeth us. Jesus saith unto him, Have I been so long time with you, and yet hast thou not known me, Philip? he that hath seen me hath seen the Father: and how sayest thou then, Shew us the Father?" Believe me that I am in the Father, and the Father in me; for else believe me for the very works' sake."

A passage from "Science and Health With Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy, stated: "Do you say the time has not yet come in which to recognize Soul as substantial and able to control the body? Remember Jesus, who nearly nineteen centuries ago demonstrated the power of Spirit and said, 'He that believeth on me, the works that I do shall he do also,' and who also said, 'But the hour cometh, and "Substance" was the subject of the lesson-sermon on Sunday in all Churches of Christ, Scientist, now is, when the true worshippers shall worship the Father in spirit and in truth.'

A new distance record for women was recently set by Mme. Andre Dupeyron of Paris while flying from Oran to Basra, Iraq, a distance of 2560 miles, without a stop.

FLOWER SHOW ATTRACTS THOUSANDS

ORANGE TAKES REGISTER CUP

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 12.—Idol Chatter: Jean Arthur's cheery smiles seem to be reserved for screen use only—off-screen she usually wears a frown. You never see Mr. Temple on Shirley's set—that's Mrs. Temple's province and she rules it. That new Benny mansion is not only the first house—that-Jack built, but the only one he's ever owned. Real names: Frances Farmer and Leif Erickson sign hotel registers as Mr. and Mrs. William Anderson.

Dorothy Lamour has never been noted for clothes sense, but she's the best undressed star in town. Most be-gadeted jalopier in Hollywood belongs to Jackie Cooper—it even has an automatic device which washes the windshield. Today's discovery: the theatre in Beverly Hills that has been specializing in horror pictures is owned by Bobbie Breen. Odd that Kay Francis, whose contract with Warner Brothers expressly forbids her to fly, should be chosen to star in an aviation thriller.

Virginia Bruce is wearing bells on her fingers—ten of them on a tiny ring. You'd never suspect from his screen roles, but Wallace Beery owns one of Filmville's most elaborate wardrobes. I never see the Golden Gate Bridge in San Francisco without reflecting what a clever dental engineer could accomplish with Martha Raye.

On fogless nights, I like to drive high into the hills, to a place called Lookout Point. The road zig-zags up through a series of pitch-dark canyons and then, with dramatic suddenness, emerges on the outer face of the mountain, a thousand feet above the twinkling, multi-colored lights of Hollywood. Seen from there, Filmtown has a breath-taking, dream-like beauty. It wears the flashing jewels that a city of make-believe should wear. Sitting there last night, it occurred to me that those lights symbolize perfectly the lives of the people

COUNTY FARM BUREAU VOTES TO OPPOSE "$30 WEEK PLAN"

Branding the $30 a week for life pension plan as "a mirage toward which the aged will walk endlessly without ever reaching," the Orange County Farm Bureau today urged voters to oppose the measure in the November election.

"No group or individual," said F. C. Latham, chairman of the tax committee of the organization, "genuinely interested in the welfare of the aged, can do anything but condemn this modern version of rubbing an Aladdin's Lamp and producing a miracle."

The proposal is so chimerical that any person who has ever analyzed it is at a loss to understand how anybody could put faith into it."

Instead of aiding the deserving aged, Latham said, the measure if enacted into law will paralyze California economically, industrially, agriculturally, and financially because: More than $1,903,000,000 in warrants would have to be used the first year the program is in full operation. This amount is six times as great as the $303,000,000 in coin and other legal tender now in general circulation in California.

Cites Figures
Latham declared that the $985,956,000,000 represents the volume of business which would have to be maintained annually to keep the warrants changing hands weekly on the basis of a two-cent stamp each Thursday on each warrant. The $9 billion dollars is more than ten times the amount of the total expenditures by the federal government for its peak fiscal year. This huge figure pyramids by more than 15 times the total amount of coin and other money in general circulation throughout the entire United States.

In addition, Latham stated, issuance of $1,903,000,000 in state warrants the first year will immediately increase prices of goods and services, necessitating proportionate increase in number or "value" of warrants to meet the

"Oh, I thought sludge was a kind of candy," she says to me!

Know old Doc Graham's daughter? Well, you ought to. She's swell. Regular customer, too.

The other day I was telling her about motor oil. It's sort of hard to keep a girl's mind on motor oil and stop-and-go driving, but I was trying anyway.

"See that gooey black stuff? That's sludge," I told her, looking very serious. She giggled.

"Oh, I thought sludge was a kind of candy," she said.

Well, what's the use? Every driver ought to know what happens when bum oil breaks down under hard strains. And how sudden cold starts with a sluggish oil can cause more motor wear than all the running.

Especially when, with all this stop-and-go driving today, those are the big oil risks. But, boy! What a job getting that over to 'em!

They say: "But this Golden Shell Oil is only 25¢ a quart!" So what? Just because Shell got big hearted and developed a modern oil and didn't raise the price, I have to learn to be a salesman!

Here's the swellest oil an honest service man ever sold a good customer, and I have to sell it. They ought to be taking it away from us! Fact is, those that know about it are doing just about that.

Sincerely,

Your Shell Dealer

Appeal from $117 Judgment On File

Appeal from the $117 judgment granted to R. H. Henry against Stanley Wells recently by Justice of the Peace Cal D. Lester when he was on the Huntington Beach township bench, was filed Saturday in superior court by Wells through his attorney, Fred D. Johnson.

Henry, through his counsel, Ray H. Overacker, successfully contend in the lower court that $112.21 was owned the plaintiff by Wells, to whom Henry is said to have advanced various sums of money in the last two years. Notice of appeal subsequently was filed and this morning the transcript was recorded in the office of County Clerk Basil J. Smith.

The practical use to which the knitted and other articles are put is interestingly described by Bertha C. Lovell, the Red Cross field director at the hospital, who writes:

"If the chapter members who put such skill and such sense of design into the 10 beanies we received have ever visited Letterman hospital during the windy weather they know what an important part beanies play in our social set-up here. Frankly, there is nothing that seems to be more popular with the men than the colorful warm beanies the chapters provide. Please accept our heartiest thanks for them."

"For the 10 bedside bags, also! Almost everything we have said about the beanies can apply to the bedside bags. Although the men do not wear the bags they nevertheless put them to a very good purpose and we know that the nurses share the men's satisfaction. A ward well equipped with bags is a neat ward. It is a ward that we believe is conducive toward a

RED CROSS IS GIVEN THANKS

Recently the Laguna Beach Red Cross sent a production shipment of 10 beanies, 10 bed side bags, 10 ice bags, and four bed jackets to the Pacific branch office in San Francisco for distribution to a government hospital. Part of the shipment went to the Letterman General hospital, San Francisco, according to a letter received by the Santa Ana chapter today.

Barbecue Affair Given
Charming Setting at Sattler Home

Saturday night's gorgeous moon perfected the setting for a barbecue supper at which Mr. and Mrs. George Sattler entertained at their home on Panorama Heights. Their daughter, Miss Audrey Sattler and Bob Davies aided in carrying out hospitable plans.

The host made use of the barbecue pit near the swimming pool in preparing the luscious steaks which were served with various other tempting foods. Guests found places at a long table set with pottery and decked with dahlias and poppies in gay hues.

Later in the evening they sought the corridors of the paths, where a blazing fire on the wide hearth added to the pleasure of the evening given over to card play. Mrs. Howard Timmons and R. C. Hobbes were rewarded for their high scores in bridge.

Invited to share the evening with the Sattlers were Messrs. and Mmes. H. T. Munning, Leonard Swales, Howard Timmons, Charles Cogan, W. B. Hellis, R. C. Hobbes, Lieut.-Com., and Mrs. I. F. Landis, Mrs. Sara Johnston, Mrs. William Taylor Stearns and Mrs. Hellis' sister, Miss Edith Stone, of Bedford, Va.

Luncheon Guests Enjoy Return to Childhood In Party Gayeties

Returning with enthusiasm to the childhood days which they have put behind them, guests Saturday of the Misses Ruth Ann Segerstrom and Carolyn Wells at a final preschool luncheon in the Segerstrom home, 1914 Victoria Drive, appeared in the brief frocks, rompers and flaring ribbons of little girlhood.

They found their hostesses in similar attire, and everything in readiness for all the joys of childhood romps, which included drop the handkerchief, London bridge, and other favorite games played out in the shady garden. Within the home they saw balloons like glorified grape clusters, floating down the stairwell, suspended from chandeliers, and brightening every conceivable spot. Favorite dolls of childhood days were brought forth, to be matched by others carried by the guests.

Mrs. Anton Segerstrom and Mrs. Carrie Wells gave full assistance to their daughters in presenting the party program, while assisting in checking and in serving the tempting luncheon menu, were the Misses Jane Holles, Shirley Baker, Pat Emerson, Barbara Tucker and Marjorie Wall. Luncheon tables were charmingly centered with prim little nosegays, in lace paper frills.

Games were resumed in the afternoon, culminating in a fish pond with a pretty souvenir gift for each guest. All the merriment was heightened by the amusing costumes, and especially intriguing were two sets of twins, one composed of the Misses Marjorie Mize and Irma Jean May, the other of the Misses Mary Bruning and Muriel Walker.

On the guest list of the Misses Segerstrom and Wells were Misses Marjorie Wall, Alice McKee, Elinor Doyle, Marjorie Mize, Lucille Lambert, Rosalie Abbott, Bettie Lucy, Peggy Holloway, Marilyn Dick, Nancy Capellen, Elizabeth Hays, June Tway, Mary Corey, Irma Jean May, Betty Holmes, Jacqueline Bradford, Mary Holmes, Marjorie Ball, Alice Clare McFarland, Loraine Sweet, Kathryn Mather, Phyllis Bemis, Rosemary Blodgett, Barney Smith, Natalie Nelson, Virginia Jordan, Dorothy Westover, Mildred Warner, Barbara Flower, Ruth Liggett.

The bride, who made her home in this city several years ago, is well known in Santa Ana. She is a daughter of Mrs. E. G. Will of Seattle, formerly of this city, and a niece of Mrs. E. G. Summers, 2301 North Flower street.

Sorority Pledges Give Party Assistance

Saturday night when Long Beach chapter Sigma Tau Psi presents a gala autumn dance in Lakewood Country club, many Santa Ana chapter members and their escorts will be present, according to plans made last week when the sorority met with its president, Mrs. Terry Stephenson Jr., 226 Lucy street.

Other than dance plans, the evening had few business matters to consider. Instead members demanded entertainment from their pledges, Nancy Cappelen, Dorothy Frazier, Vivian Bodman, Lois Hunter and Bettie Lacy. Readings were uppermost in the impromptu program. Pledges also served the delectable home-made fig ice cream prepared by Mrs. Stephenson, to be served with cookies and coffee.

Sunshine asters from the garden of the home, made a cheerful setting for a party enjoyed by the Misses Betty Marston, Charlotte Barker, Dorothy Skinner, Fern Berkner, Jeanne Bodman, Mrs. L. E. Holmes, Mrs. Wesley Hauck, the hostess and the five pledges.

CZECHOSLOVAKIAN SITUATION OUTLINED IN PASTOR'S TALK

ORANGE, Sept. 13.—"Czechoslovakia is like a spear head into the heart of Germany" said Dr. Robert Burns McAulay, pastor of the First Presbyterian church, last night in the first of a series of Sunday evening lectures on European countries he toured this summer. Eventually, Dr. McAulay declared, he believes, Czechoslovakia will be taken through economic and trade maneuvers, if war can be avoided.

In the first part of his lecture, Dr. McAulay outlined the history and geographical position of Czechoslovakia, pointing out that the taking of Austria by Germany some months ago has precipitated the Sudeten crisis, as the rich western boundaries of Czechoslovakia are surrounded by Germany and Austria, and block trade routes between the two German people, he said, desire peace, though they put nothing above loyalty to their country. Czechoslovakians have the same loyalty to their country's freedom and claim they will die before surrendering their Sudeten land, rich in minerals and manufacturing centers. This area of Czechoslovakia is the richest part of the little nation, he said.

Dr. McAulay brought a clearer view of Germany's problems when he devoted part of his talk to that country. In almost every European capital, he said, it is recognized that Germany was the real victor in the World war, having more territory than before, and a unity brought about by Hitler. Their cultural leadership among nations has been won below their leadership in things temporal by Hitler's government, he declared.

Glassware, embroidery work and a Czechoslovakian flag were on display on the platform. Advertising put out by Czechoslovakia for tourists was shown. Dr. McAulay compared their publicity to that put out by the Los Angeles Chamber of commerce in its enthusiasm.

ORANGE, Sept. 12.—Robert Seaton won the $2 cash and merchandise prize offered for first place in the first soap box derby to be staged by Boy Scout troop No. 53 on the steep hills and grades of Lemon Heights Saturday. Jim Green won second place with a $1 cash award.

There were 18 young contestants in the exciting event, which was originated by William Klenck, patrol leader of the troop. Another derby is to be held in about two months time. Contestants are to register before the derby at the Santa Ana Register office in Orange at 108 West Chapman avenue.

About 100 persons witnessed the derby, which was featured by thrills and spills as the soap-box vehicles dashed around curves and up and down hills.

STRANGER IN TOWN

THE LAMPS on the main street outside have just turned on and the clock in the hotel lobby says five minutes after six. A man steps out of the elevator; he lights a cigarette and walks slowly toward the dining room.

He is a traveling salesman; a stranger in town.

The stranger stops at the newsstand. He slaps a nickel on the counter and picks up a New York paper. Turning away, he starts to read it, walking to the dining room.

Suddenly the stranger stops short. He frowns. Then he walks back to the newsstand and buys the latest edition of the local newspaper. He takes it to the dinner table with him, leaving the New York paper with his hat on the rack outside. The local newspaper came from the press a bare twenty minutes ago; the New York paper is twelve hours old.

TONIGHT this homely little drama will be re-enacted in hundreds of cities and towns all over the United States. It will happen in Cleveland, Altoona, Asheville and Oshkosh. It will happen in Augusta, Maine, and in Augusta, Georgia. Go into nearly any hotel lobby, nearly any railroad station and you will see it happen. It's as sure as sunset or high tide—the manifestation of the twice-daily craving called news-hunger!

News-hunger is the thing that makes millions of people get up in the morning. News-hunger makes the bus ride home endurable for just as many millions very night. To satisfy it women will go late to the movies and men will paddle across northern lakes in a squall to reach the post office—and the mail edition—on the other side. It makes an empty newsstand as great a tragedy as an empty refrigerator. News-hunger is shared by banker and bootblack, prize fighter and professor, and the food it craves—the news of the day—is the one thing all civilized humanity can talk about in common.

For everybody who can read reads the news! Oswald K. Citizen may have a thousand books in his library or he may have one—and that one the telephone directory—but he reads some newspaper at least once a day. He may own a sixteen-tube radio, a four-tube cracker box, or none at all—he may subscribe to a dozen magazines, to three, or to not a single one—but it's dollars to doughnuts that part of his hard-earned income goes to buy at least one newspaper every day in the week and probably Sunday, too!

"All I know is what I read in the newspaper," said Will Rogers and it's probably the phrase that will endear him longest to America; it struck a familiar chord in the hearts of millions.

Everybody reads the newspaper. There's so much, so awfully much, to read! Just the weather report, for instance. Remember those scorching days a few weeks ago? And how you couldn't wait to pick up the paper to see if a break was coming? And that baseball news! Hasn't it been a grand and glorious escape from business troubles, tax worries and the thousand and one things that plague you every day? What would you do without your newspaper? What would you do without the big black headlines that thrill and surprise you every day, without the unrolling drama of a war-tense Europe, without Henry McLemore, Little Orphan Annie, The Nebbs, Major Hoople or Jimmy Fidler? You'd get along, of course; but life wouldn't be very exciting. And there are millions like you, mister!

Everybody reads the newspaper. Reads it excitedly, eagerly, with a thrill! That, incidentally, is why newspaper advertising packs such a wallop. That's why it outpulls every other kind. Everybody reads news—everybody wants news—and advertising is news, too! A newspaper reader is alert, keyed-up to get the most out of advertising just because he is reading his newspaper. He is not playing bridge with the radio blaring in the background. He's not chewing his nails off deep in a magazine mystery serial, oblivious to everything but a bloody corpse. He's not wading wearily through a mass of broadsides and brochures looking for a personal letter from his pal in Clinton, Iowa. He is avidly intent on the news in his newspaper advertising: What is it? How much does it cost? Where can I buy it?

He likes newspaper advertising and looks upon it as one of the many fine services his newspaper performs. How different from the radio listener who regards the honeyed voice of the announcer as a blatant intrusion!

Finally, let's remember this! Advertising is simply selling and selling must always be hometown selling—local selling. People do not buy cars, shoes or tuna fish at a factory a thousand miles away. They buy them from a local dealer. Selling is always local—and newspaper advertising outpulls any other kind because it is local, too—because it can be keyed to local conditions, local interests, local buying-power and local taste.

That's why America is primarily a newspaper market. It is, in fact, a super-market of local newspaper markets, populated by folks who buy almost everything they wear, eat and use through advertisements in local newspapers. If you are a national advertiser aiming for larger volume you must recognize what local advertisers have long ago realized: that you need local newspaper pulling power to deliver your important message to these people. Without it, your product will remain a stranger in town.

THE POWER OF ASSOCIATION

As an illustration of how easy it is to connect people's names with incidents, in an editorial a day or so ago, we associated Downey as an opponent to Merriam for governor. We should have referred, of course, to Olson.

It was undoubtedly the contrast of the Townsend Plan and the $30 a Week Plan that Merriam used in his statement that caused us to carelessly leave the name of Downey as an opponent.

While Olson has not definitely endorsed the $30 a Week Plan, he has not had the courage, honesty or the frankness to find any fault with it but says he will honestly attempt to enforce it if it is passed.

In this case, the sins of omission are just as serious as the sins of commission.

ATTRACTS WRONG KIND OF STUDENTS

With the law interpreted so that the junior colleges cannot refuse to accept any student they believe will be benefited, the building of a junior college will undoubtedly attract the wrong kind of students. A student who is attracted to a college because of the ornate buildings, rather than because of the character and ability of the professors and the results they have produced on other students, are not the class of students that are beneficial to a community.

So, new buildings for the junior college would constantly add to the tax burden of the workers, lower their standard of living and do mighty little if any, good. On the other hand, if instructors are found who attract students who desire to come in contact with analytical minds and men who have a clear, consistent conception of fundamental social problems then there is no need for new junior college buildings in order to attract this kind of students. So building a new college building, would probably have a negative effect that would not only greatly add to the tax burden of the workers in the community and those who are living in retirement with small means, but would have a negative effect instead of positive.

SHOULD SUDETEN SECEDE?

A proposal made by the British government that the German Sudeten was granted the right to secede from Czechoslovakia as a compromise, is a complicated question.

We, in the United States, declared that the South had no right to secede. We were so emphatic about it, that we fought the Civil War on the subject.

The question arises whether a nation is not better off in acquiescing to secession when its subjects voluntarily want it. If a state secedes, it loses many of the advantages it has when a part of a large nation. It is very weak in protecting itself from the outside and is at the mercy of the neighboring states, both from a military and commercial standpoint. And if a nation is small and is prevented by tariff walls from trading with neighbors, it cannot have a high standard of living. This is true even if it has a lot of natural resources. If it cannot dispose of these or other things and, thus, by specializing and reducing costs, greatly increase the production per capita, it can have nothing but a very low standard of living. So, when a nation desires to secede, it is facing grave difficulty.

Of course, the best way for any nation to remain large and prosperous is for the government to be so efficient and take such a small fraction of the total income and allow the citizens so much natural freedom to improve its material well being and develop character that no part of it wants to secede.

It is rather difficult for a citizen of the United States who always has been taught that the South had no right to secede, to be consistent and say that now Sudeten has a right to secede.

THE INVESTIGATORS COME HOME

(The Atlanta, Ga., Constitution)

Ever since the advent of the New Deal in 1933, academic gentlemen in customary groups of five have been scouring continental Europe at government expense. The main quest on most of these jaunts, it seems, has been for proof that the human race, in all its divergencies of opinion and complexities of thought, could be successfully regimented little by little, into one, goose-stepping whole.

In most instances, however, the investigators have returned unhappy in the discovery their theories, in practice, call for the introduction of methods and conditions from which millions have fled to American shores for over 300 years.

Another committee has just returned. The five gentlemen went to England a couple of months ago for the purpose of investigating the trade unions act and comparing it with the American labor relations act. At the time of their departure it was suspected they were going merely for the ride. The British act had been in operation for over 11 years. There was nothing about it not already known on this side of the Atlantic.

It is understood the usual comprehensive report has been prepared and, fortunately, will be allowed to join its many predecessors in impracticability in the ever-enlarging Washington archives. Probably the most amusing of their "findings" was the discovery the British act was designed to curb union activities as contrasted with the American act, which was created to broaden and protect them. This, if known in advance by the committee, and it must have been, would have been indication enough they were merely going over to England for the trip.

It is almost unanimously agreed on this side of the Atlantic that the Wagner act needs revising to make it workable. It's dollars to doughnuts, however, the report of the committee, just back from the British labor front, will not contribute toward this end.

COTTON PROGRAM ON TRIAL

(Dallas Morning News)

Deep disappointment throughout Texas and the south greets the government's announcement of an 8.20 cent cotton loan to farmers when they had hoped for one of 12 cents. The government loan usually becomes the ceiling of prices. If that should happen again this year it will mean a staggering loss to cotton growers in spite of emergency loans and price adjustments which are announced or contemplated.

The plight of Texas cotton farmers deserves the careful consideration of every Texan. One must not lose sight of the original objective of the federal crop control program, which aimed at educating acreage

HOW CLOSE TO A DICTATOR?

"He has power—To classify arbitrarily industries and to appoint industry committees."

"To select arbitrarily the personnel of each committee."

"To pass on the wage rates proposed by each industrial committee."

"To inform the committee that in his opinion, the rates are not suitable."

"To fire the committee if it balks and handpick a new committee."

"To instruct the substitute committee to meet and discuss fresh changes in the wage rate."

"If he does not obtain the results he desires, he can discharge committee after committee, until one is obtained that will come to heel."

"To determine arbitrarily what businesses are seasonal and what are not."

"To rule who is exempt from his dictums and who is not."

"To rule the number of men an employer may employ."

The above is from Boake Carter's column and it is not necessary to add that this enormous power is not an appointee of Mussolini or Hitler. He is merely an administrator of the wage and hour division of the Department of Labor under the government and will go into operation October 26.

Carter adds: "Through his office the government of Roosevelt II can make and break any business and any employer it so desires."

NOT SO GENEROUS

It is rather a case of irony to have the President so solicitous about the one-third that are underfed and underprivileged, to have a son whom he has set up as his secretary at $10,000 a year, who is so calloused as to the needs of the one-third of the people.

A photostatic copy of James Roosevelt's income tax report for the six years from 1932 to 1937 inclusive, showed that he had an income of $189,554.98; out of this income, this son of the President, who is so much interested in the under-fed, contributed in the way that the court will recognize as charity, $930.50, or less than one-half of one per cent.

In addition to this, the President's son saw fit to give away to his wife one-half of his stock in the insurance company that made him this tidy sum, so as to reduce his taxes which help support the government, while the President contends that every citizen is entitled to a modern living standard. What will these citizens who are entitled, as the President proclaims to a modern living, use for money if everyone is callous in their gifts and as shrewd in reducing their taxes needed to supply these comforts as the President's son?

Consistency, thou art a jewel!

VOLUNTARY COOPERATION

What we are losing, step by step, is the voluntary actions on the part of the individual. Everytime we pass a law that compels citizens who act in harmony with the majority, then the voluntary action of the minority is lost. Every additional service that the government proposes to perform forces every individual to pay for that service whether he wants to or not. This is invariably true in even things that the government is supposed to charge only those whom they serve because invariably if it is a Federal service the government never gets complete cost for the service. Occasionally a local government function does charge the cost but this is very rare. So, every time the Federal government attempts to perform a service, it compels everybody to contribute and he loses his rights to voluntarily decide whether or not he wants the service.

and restricting sales of cotton drastically in order to assure growers a minimum parity price of 16 cents a pound. After five years of government meddling in the farmers' business the market price for cotton is 8 cents a pound, just one-half of the desired level. In these five years Texas growers have lost one-half of their foreign markets, which competing nations were quick to grab. Quality of Texas staple has deteriorated so signal that cotton shippers are compelled to substitute Arkansas, Louisiana, and even Mexican cotton for the Texas fiber in order to fill export orders. The whole cotton program has just about gone "haywire." If Texas agriculture is to be restored to health, cotton growers must be allowed to regain foreign markets. To interfere drastically with the marketing of Texas cotton, when nine out of ten bales grown each year must be exported to foreign countries, is now recognized as a colossal blunder if not worse.

One also is prompted to ask why Iowa and other corn belt farmers get a loan of 57 cents a bushel on their corn, now bringing around 37 cents a bushel, while the cotton loan is hardly above the street price. Many states of Texas are harvesting the poorest cotton crop in years, poor yield and poor staple, due to drought, worms, and weevils. In the face of the greatly reduced farm income the county agents, however, are threatening farmers with plowing under parts of their cotton crop now maturing because their acreage is in excess of the federal quota. It is no wonder that farmers in Henderson county are in open revolt against further tampering with their right to grow and sell what cotton they may desire. If conditions do not change soon other counties will certainly be heard from.

(London Times)

It might be worth while for the Czech government to consider whether they should exclude altogether a project which has found favor in some quarters of making Czechoslovakia a more homogeneous state by the secession of that fringe of the alien population who are contiguous to the nation with which they are united by race.

In any case, the wishes of the population concerned would seem a decisively important element in any solution that can hope to be regarded as permanent, and the advantages to Czechoslovakia in becoming a homogeneous state might conceivably outweigh the obvious disadvantages of losing the Sudeten German districts of the borderland.

Editor Regiter:
I have sent the following letter to Mr. John L. Lewis, Chairman, Committee for Industrial Organization, 1106 Connecticut Avenue, Washington, D. C.

My Dear Mr. Lewis:

Admittedly, Mr. Roosevelt is a politician of extraordinary brilliance and flexibility. But he is a dangerous politician because he has no compass to guide him, except a consuming desire for power and a will to control not merely all three branches of the government but every phase of economic life.

As you may gather, I do not trust or believe in President Roosevelt. He may be well-meaning. But I think he would walk over labor or any other group if it stood in his path to power. And I do not think he is telling the people the truth.

One realizes that there are occasions when it is hard for the leaders of politics and also the leaders of labor to tell the truth to their constituents. Organized labor has been forced so long on the idea that its duty is to hate and embarrass business, that now, when the need for cooperation, and more production and employment overshadows every other issue, it is hard for men like yourself and Mr. Roosevelt to switch to a more constructive attitude. For if you change your attitude now, you will be accused of conspiring with the "enemy."

On the other hand, if you continue on the present lines, there may result so much unemployment and suffering as to cause a strong reaction against you. Certainly if present conditions continue much longer, instead of one-third of the population being ill-clad, ill-housed, and ill-nourished, there will be two-thirds. And the New Deal will have its work cut out for it.

III. Bogus Liberalism and False Reform

In 1846 Karl Marx wrote, in an open letter to Kriege, that for eighteen centuries—i.e., since the time of Christ—the doctrine of good will and understanding had failed as an agent of social advance. In its stead he recommended what he considered a more dynamic force, the force of class antagonism. Marx announced that Christianity was on its deathbed. He regarded health, cotton growers must be allowed to regain foreign markets. To interfere drastically with the marketing of Texas cotton, when nine out of ten bales grown each year must be exported to foreign countries, is now recognized as a colossal blunder if not worse.

One also is prompted to ask why Iowa and other corn belt farmers get a loan of 57 cents a bushel on their corn, now bringing around 37 cents a bushel, while the cotton loan is hardly above the street price. Many states of Texas are harvesting the poorest cotton crop in years, poor yield and poor staple, due to drought, worms, and weevils. In the face of the greatly reduced farm income the county agents, however, are threatening farmers with plowing under parts of their cotton crop now maturing because their acreage is in excess of the federal quota. It is no wonder that farmers in Henderson county are in open revolt against further tampering with their right to grow and sell what cotton they may desire. If conditions do not change soon other counties will certainly be heard from.

Many people in America, calling themselves liberals, agree with Marx. They have no solution for social problems other than the Marxian solution of class hatred and conflict. They disbelieve in democracy and Christianity. They prefer war to peace and force to education. They put their trust in coercion. They believe in the Purge—and they have brought it to America, where, taking the form of political instead of physical assassination, it is being used to liquidate popular government and install centralized political control.

No, I did not vote for Mr. Roosevelt in 1936. For by then I had come to see that he had been a more destructive force than President Hoover—which is saying a good deal. Certainly it may be said for Mr. Hoover that he was not in the grip of a power complex. It is true that America went down into the great depression while Mr. Hoover was in the White House. But the collapse was not local—it was worldwide. But, under Mr. Roosevelt spoke at Lansing,

Roosevelt, America has stayed down throughout a period in which, except for the dictatorships, the rest of the world has regained its feet. Nor should we attribute the recovery in foreign democracies to their armament programs. For in 1937 the Chancellor of the Exchequer said that England's war industries comprised but about six percent of her total of industry. And today it is safe to estimate that they do not comprise over ten percent.

Capitalism Did Not Cause The Depression

It is argued in some quarters that our 1929 depression was caused by capitalism, and that nothing but a complete reorganization on collective lines, plus an all-powerful Executive, can pull America out of the ditch. The truth is that the depression was not due to capitalism. It was chiefly due to the mismanagement of governments, and certain financial authorities, who, believing that the post war boom would go on indefinitely, poured out credit and encouraged borrowing and expansion, until a time came when fixed charges could not be met by earnings. And to these causes must be added far-reaching and fundamental credit and monetary dislocations following the war.

Capitalism is not foolproof.

Blind leadership and frenzied mass psychology will wreck any economic system and any form of government that can be devised by men.

Nevertheless, capitalism has shown itself the most productive form of economic organization that has been developed. And though it requires much care and patient adjustment, it has demonstrated, by the rise in the standard of living since Marx's time, its capacity to produce wealth and improve economic conditions, as well as a marked capacity to promote liberty and cultural life.

Mr. Uncertainty

Mr. Lewis, you know something about economics in general and business in particular. You are an executive, at a good salary, in one of the leading businesses in the country, the business of organizing labor and promoting strikes. Please understand I have no criticism as to the size of your salary. Considering your ability, and the energy with which you apply your talents, I think your salary is moderate, and you earn every cent of it.

Last year, 4,740 strikes were reported (the all-time high) affecting 1,860,000 workers, and representing the loss of 28,000,000 days of labor and wages. Since you started the C. I. O. the index of industrial production has fallen from 99 to 64. And there has taken place the sharpest decline in employment in the country's history, although this and the fall in production were caused not so much by encouragement of labor troubles as by other government policies.

It would be ill-advised, for a person who is neither in the camp of labor nor that of industry, to try to pass on the merits of these strikes. But one thing is evident. The series of strikes in the automobile industry, which followed Mr. Roosevelt's second election and started the ball rolling, was not solely due to differences between labor and industry.
